

Party Unity My As-

(DJ VoiceCrack, GMNT, Earl Solow, E Luv)

Verse 1 - E Luv

I'm blogged out - surfin' for the truth across the Internet
Gotta bring these political raps outta retirement
Aimin' at the hypocrites who need their facts checked
When bush was selected not elected, I started payin' attention
Think I can't see, ain't no foolin' me, ain't no stealin' from me
Then bringin' out the false guise of unity - you must be crazy
This is the theme song and every good movement needs one
We're takin' this to the Internet, the convention, and beyond

Close your eyes, see if you can visualize this candidacy
Won over 300 electoral votes worth of states convincingly
Brings deep red and purple swing states legitimately
Carries Women, Senior, Latino, and the Working Class consistently Finished with the popular vote lead undisputedly (DJ VoiceCrack: Most votes ever)
And did all this despite calls to give up from one's own party
Equal pay for equal work - shi-, quite the contrary
So where's the democrat nomination for presidency?

Elect the candidate of the people - for those most in need
Whose supporters couldn't contribute a whole lot, if any, money
Realize I can certainly do without some high-priced coffee
I don't need a feeling, we need a president, it's not about me
Look at the classmates and New York Farmers traveling on behalf
Kids selling toys/Make-A-Wish reunions - come on, do the math
Women's suffrage survivors' hopes of casting that symbolic vote
Why select the candidate of terrorists, radicals, and rezko...?

Hook - E Luv, GMNT, and Earl Solow

...Party Unity My As- - 18 million plus spoke
There can be no hope until you count my motherfu--in' vote
Those with the pulpit stayed deafeningly silent
In the face of sexist disrespect - new politics/same bullshi-

...Party Unity My As- - a spade is a spade
Another stolen election - tell me what the fu-- has changed
Embarrassment? Harassment? - Not somethin' I can believe in
There can be no unity without fairness, because unity equals enablement

Verse 2 - E Luv

Constituents can't even explain their candidate's platform
It's ironic that the dems are now running for bush's third term
Sayin' a whole lot of nothin', and I don't have time for it
I won't stand for it - discount experience in favor of a puppet
Who flip-flops and changes stances in the heat of the moment
For the fu-- of it, to pander and won't think nothin' of it
To say and do whatever's most politically expedient
I guess the ends must really justify the means in this election

Who's pulling the strings or better yet, driving the bus?
Need two with all the people under here, one's startin' to fill up
This must be the inclusion - that ability to cross party lines
After years of neo-con rule, you now fall for liberal lies
Public financing, Iran, NAFTA, FISA, gun control (GMNT & Earl Solow: <Flip-flop chant>)
Can't tell where you stand/not worthy of my vote in the Fall
Don't have to be Patrick Fitzgerald to connect the dots
But the news long since stopped doing it's job, so I roll with the blogs

Your candidate praises the man who kicked off a campaign from the site
Of Mississippi Burning with the audacity to claim states' rights
Yet shi-s on an administration that balanced budgets
Plus helped the world well before and way after the office of President
A record of tangible legislative accomplishment is important
All I hear is words, just words - and most of those are stolen
...This isn't politics, it's personal
PUMA's have been left with no choice but to Just Say No Deal

Verse 3 - E Luv

...Verse 3 - always vote for the person, fu-- the party
Because a party that treats one of its own this badly
Isn't worthy of blind loyalty - I'm sorry, ain't no herdin' me
With shepherds who are nothing more than wolves in sheep's clothing
Now I'm flowing, unloading - trying to regain some sense of sanity
From a theory of conspiracy which involves the dnc moving
It's madness, I've been a witness - unwilling participant in this shi-
Unprecedented, I'm beefin' with this new type of democrat

In what context do the words "stripped votes" ever make sense?
When millions of people didn't even have anything to do with it
Never thought dems would do this after the 2000 election
Yet we all witnessed the debacle decision for Florida and Michigan
Citing the weak "if they would have voted" precedent (DJ VoiceCrack: Fair reflection)
Coupled with a laughable compromise that included stolen delegates
While lecturing about rules, please close your mouths
100% penalty broke the rules too, so they net each other out

How dare you claim no other party shares my values and faith?
When you railed against and trashed my ideals in the first fu--in' place
If the only thing that ties you to a party is an issue or two
Then you'll always be a hostage, but I'm far from a fool
Unity for the sake of a party means absolutely nothing
And of those who can do no wrong, one must always be leery
Willing to achieve power at any cost and coffers flush with cash
Am I actively working to unseat all involved? You bet your as-!
